

Website Name: Jordan's Journey

Description:

My website will be a personal portfolio that shows the different things I am involved in and working toward. It will include information about my education at the University of South Carolina, including my Computer Science coursework and goals. I will also use the site to share work experience, internships, and cybersecurity-related opportunities that I am interested in. Another part of the website will focus on my activities, hobbies, events, fitness, and other things that represent who I am outside of school. The goal is to create one professional and personal space where visitors can learn about my background, current goals, and future plans.

Pages:

- Home
- About Me
- Education
- Experience
- Activities & Hobbies
- Events
- Contact Me