

Website Name:

Jordan's Personal Cookbook

Description of Topic:

My website will be a personal digital cookbook that showcases meals, desserts, and other recipes that I have cooked before. Each recipe will include a picture of the finished dish, a list of ingredients, and step-by-step cooking instructions. The website will help me keep track of recipes I enjoyed making and make it easier to cook them again in the future. I also want to include different categories, such as breakfast, lunch, dinner, desserts, and drinks, so visitors can easily find a recipe they are interested in. The design will be colorful, organized, and focused on making the food photos stand out. I plan to use JavaScript features such as a recipe search/filter, image slideshow, or a popup that shows a larger version of each food picture.
